1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group II, Figure 11B in the reply filed on 6/13/2006 is acknowledged. Applicant indicates that claims 1-5, 7-14, 16-26 read on the elected species. However, claim 7 has similar limitations as presented in claim 15 which applicant indicates that not read on the elected species. Therefore, claims 6, 7 and 15 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. It appears that claims 2-4, 20 and 22-24 are not read on the elected species. Applicant is required to provide support for the relationship between these claims and the Figure 11B in response to this Office Action, otherwise these claims will be withdrawn in the next Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 5, the phrase "the opening tab" (two places) lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-5, 11-14 and 20-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tubo et al. (5,040,677; hereinafter Tubo'677). Tubo'677 discloses a package (10) enclosing a single disposable absorbent article (30) comprising a first piece of material (20) and a second piece of material (21) being operatively associated with the first piece of material to define a seal (17) and at least a portion of the first piece of material (19) and at least a portion of the second piece of material (Figure 2) extend beyond the seal to deliver an opening element.

As to claims 2-3, the first piece of material is more rigid than the second piece of material (column 3, lines 47-52).

As to claim 4, the second piece of material is defined as 20 and the first piece of material is defined as 21.

As to claims 5 and 21, Tubo'677 discloses the seal defined at least one lateral edge and at least one longitudinal edge and a portion of the opening element extended beyond at least one lateral edge of the seal and a portion of the opening element extended beyond at least one longitudinal edge of the seal (Figure 1).

6. Claims 11-14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by The Japanese Patent No. 10-95481 to Narawa (hereinafter Narawa). Narawa discloses a package (1) enclosing a single disposable absorbent article (2) comprising a layer of material (3) having an interior surface, an exterior surface and configured to provide an interior space, the package defined at least two lateral seals (32, 33) and a portion of the layer of material extended beyond at least one lateral seal (Figure 9). The extended portion of the package is inherently capable to provide an opening element. Narawa further discloses the package is vacuum packed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 8, 10, 16, 25 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tubo et al. (5,040,677; hereinafter Tubo'677) in view of The Japanese Patent No. 10-95481 to Narawa (hereinafter Narawa). Tubo'677 discloses the package (10) as above having all the limitations of the claims except for the package being vacuum packed. Narawa shows a package (1) enclosing a single disposable absorbent article (2) comprising a vacuum packed. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art in view of Narawa to modify the package of Tubo'677 so the package is vacuum packed for better protecting the article and also reduce the size of the package.

9. Claims 9, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tubo et al. (5,040,677; hereinafter Tubo'677) in view of Frank-Farah et al. (6,640,976; hereinafter Frank-Farah'976). Tubo'677 discloses the package (10) as above having all the limitations of the claims except for the opening element being coded such as color coded to indicate the size or type of the article. Frank-Farah'976 shows a package (10) for articles comprising color coded on the articles and instructions (34, column 5, lines 1-7). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art in view of Frank-Farah'976 to modify the package of Tubo'677 so the opening element includes color coded to indicate the size or type of the article to provide more convenience for the user.

10. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references as applied to claim 17 above, and further in view of The Official Notice. Tubo'677 as modified further fails to show the coded being tactilely coded. The Official Notice is taken of the old conventional practice of providing tactilely coded for helping the visually handicapped user. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art in view of The Official Notice to modify the coded of Tubo'677 as modified so the coded comprises tactilely coded to provide more convenience for the visually handicapped user.
